this is the house that built jack:
not a simple home of brick,
glass and steel,
but an intricate program of four years,
structured to graduate jack
as an individual student—
an individual man.
at the same time every morning
he comes and sits in his first class, which may be an introduction to the mental anguish of edgar allen
poe,
an outline
of the decisive battle of world war I,
or possibly an assembly
where he wonders at the adventures of the moose man.
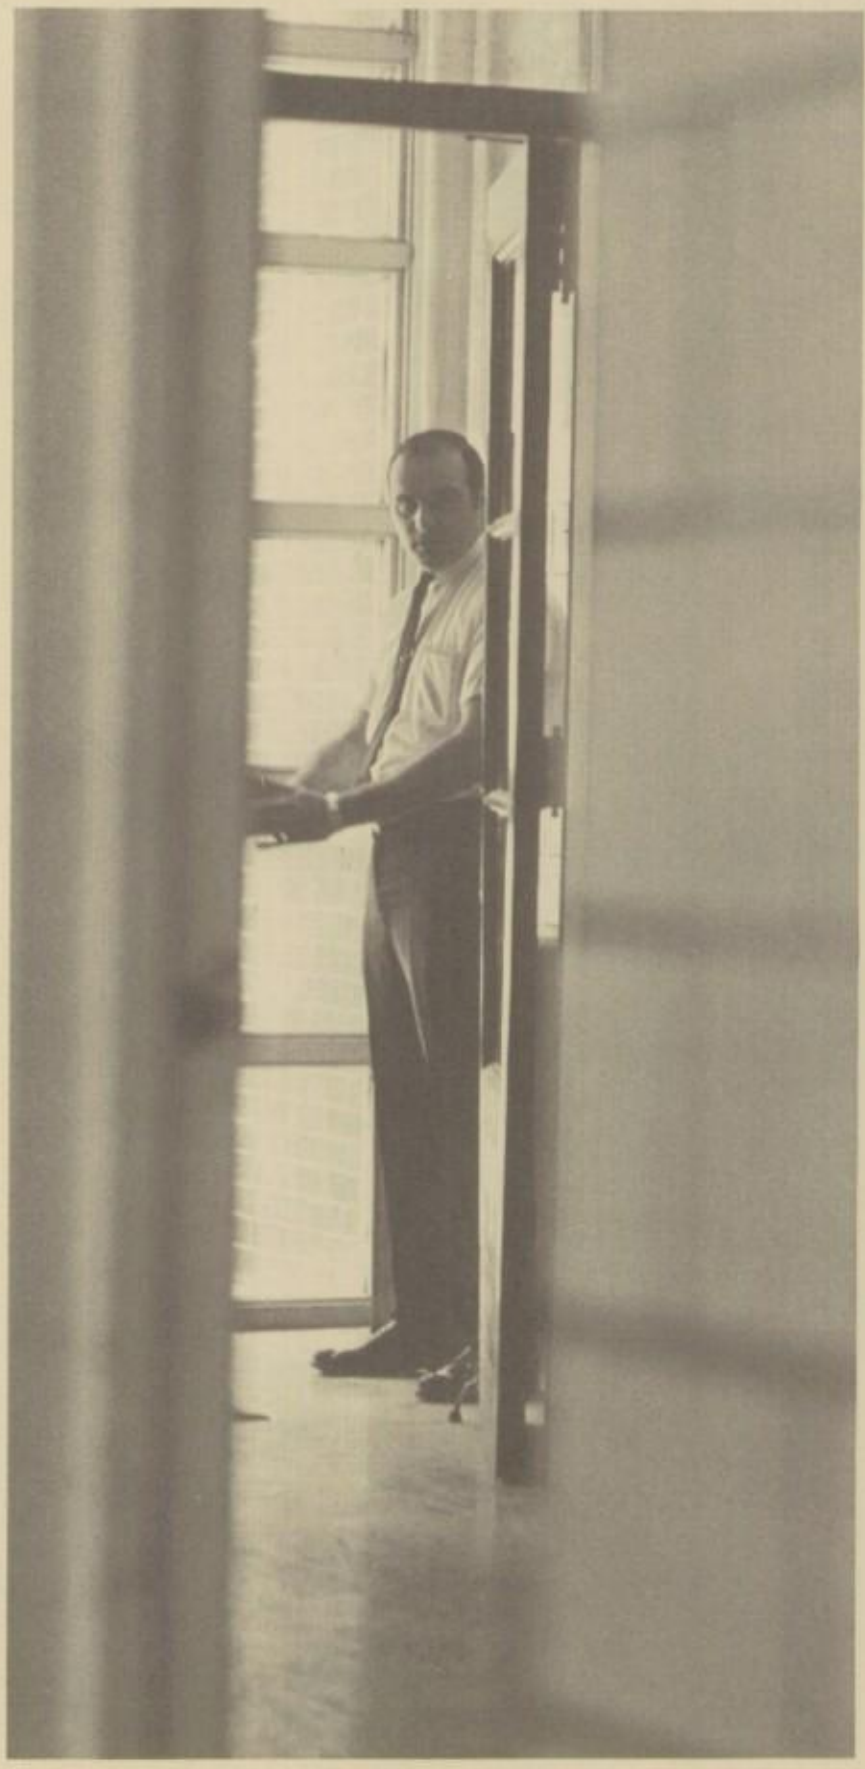
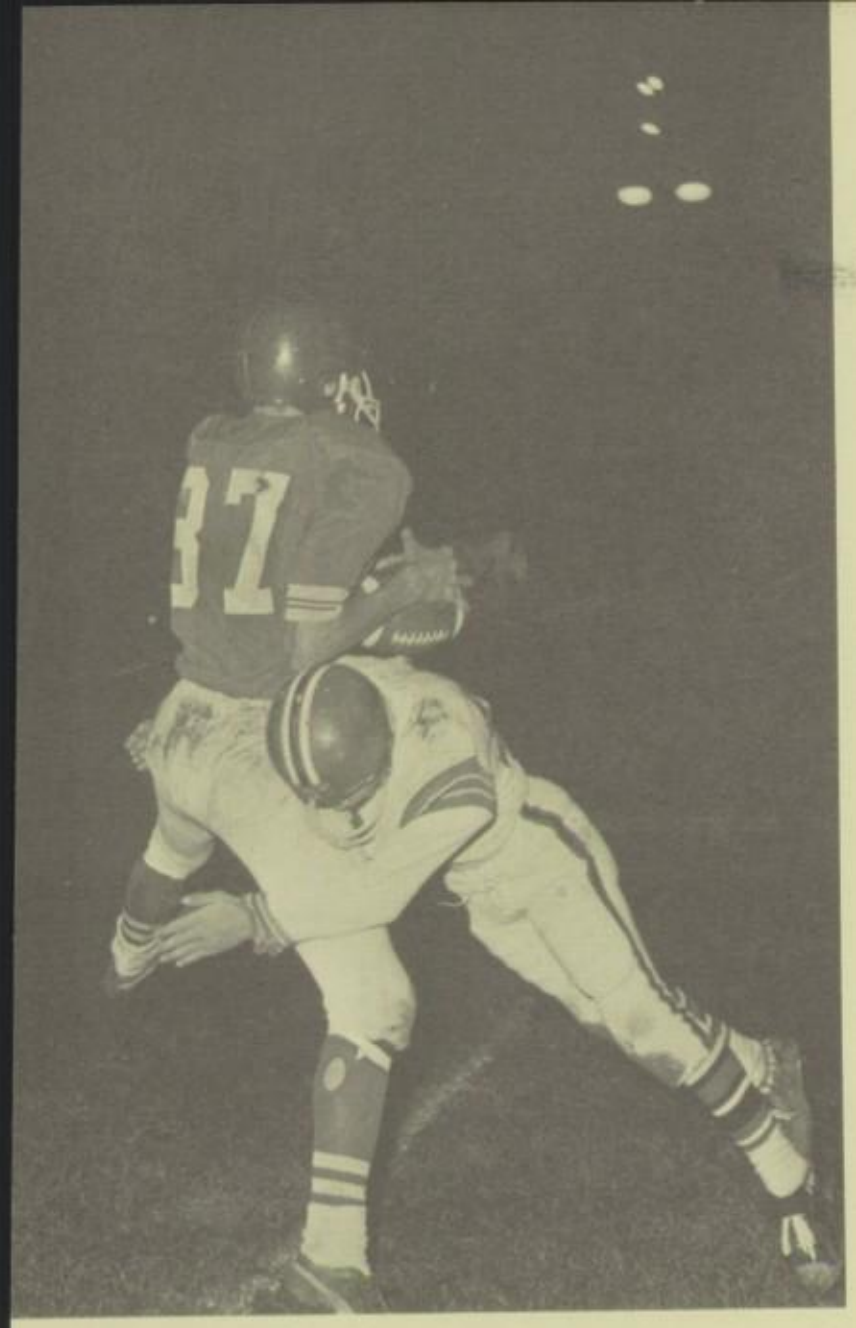
later,
he will rehearse "seventy-six
trombones"
at band practice,
and after school,





do jumping jacks for football.
jack enters this house
with the varied talents
with which he is endowed.
and,
just as in his science class,
hydrogen, sulfur, and oxygen are blended to yield $H_2 SO_4$
his musical ability,
reading aptitude,
and physical coordination
are molded
to make jack
into the man he must become.
these tools,
their aims and ideals,
and the builders behind them—
the teachers
with which jack has had contact
not only as instructors,
but also as human beings—
will direct jack
to a place in this world.

lives
in
a
world
of
many
things
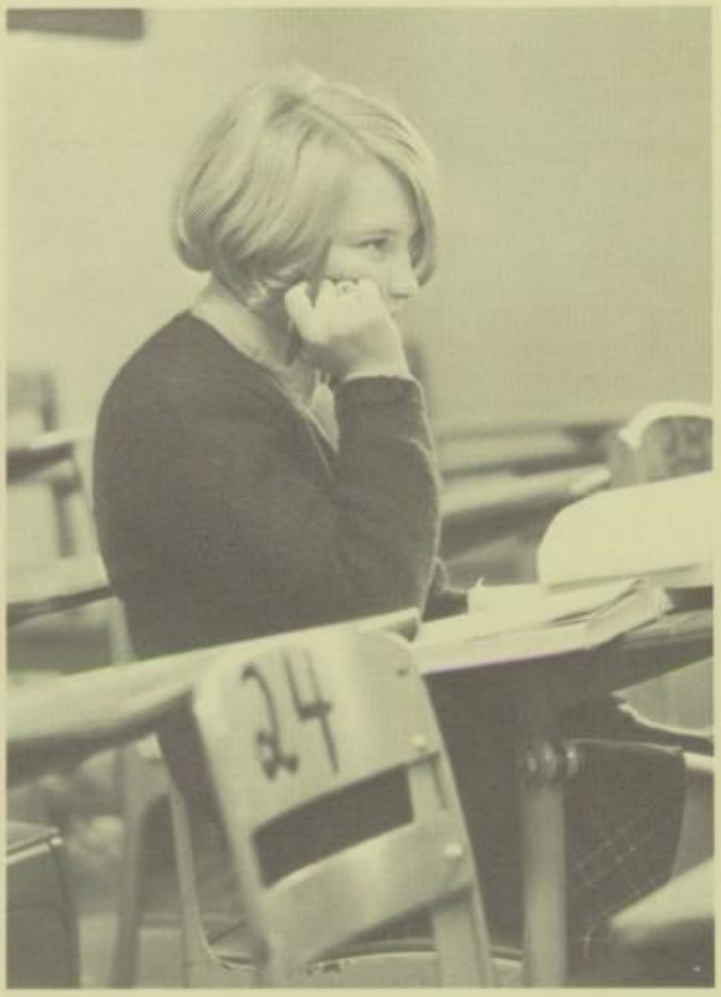
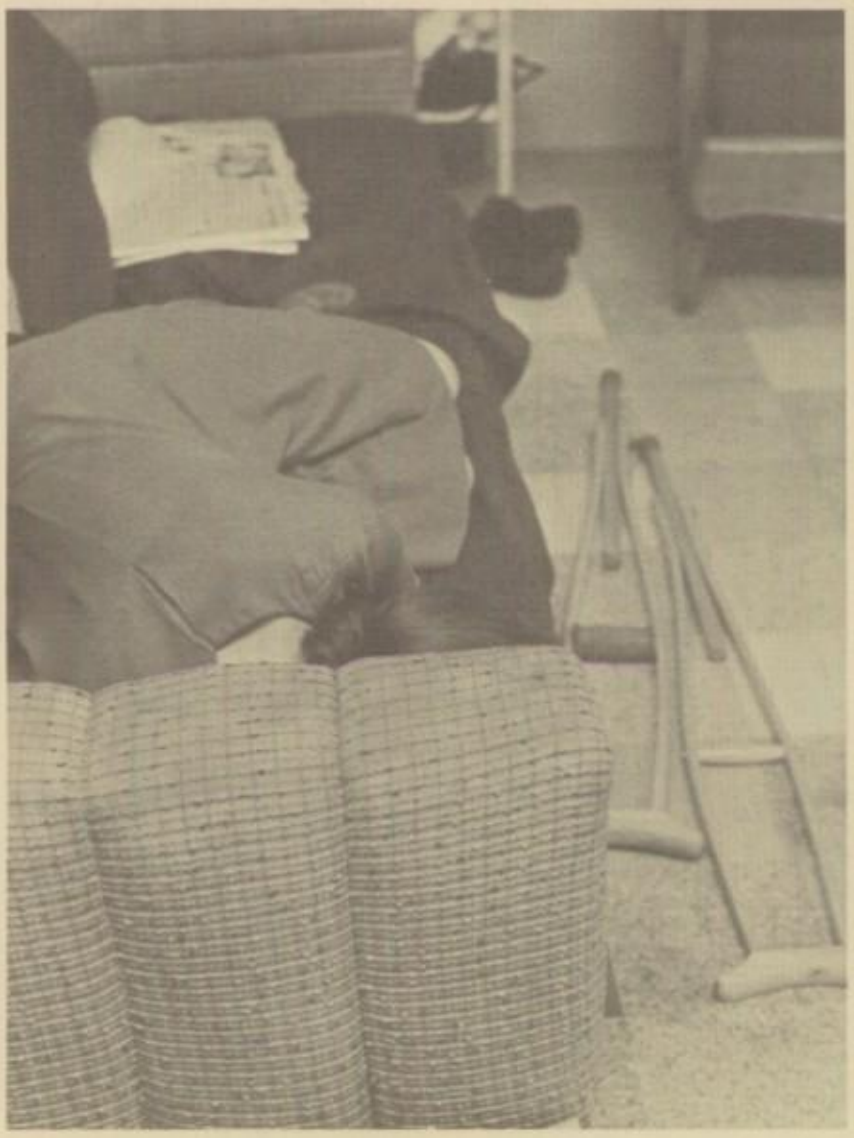
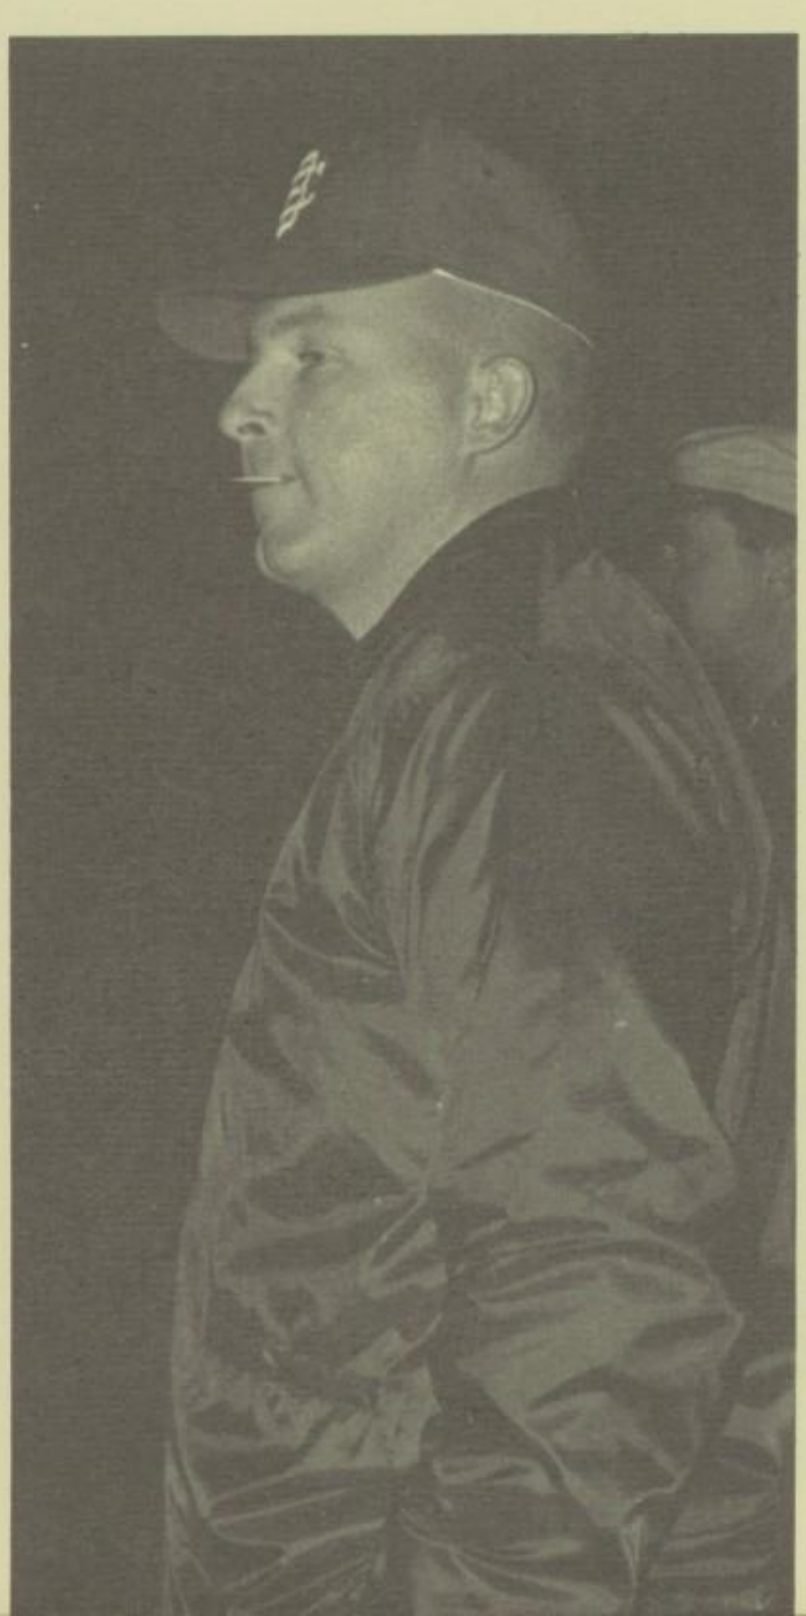
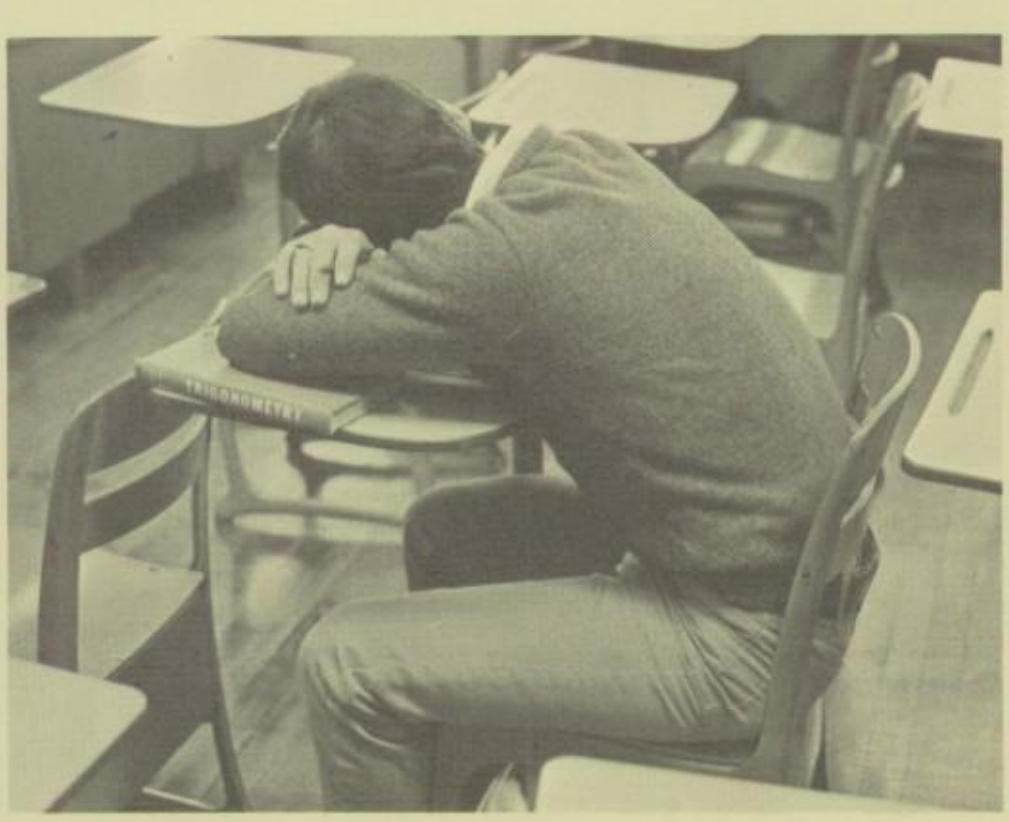
people

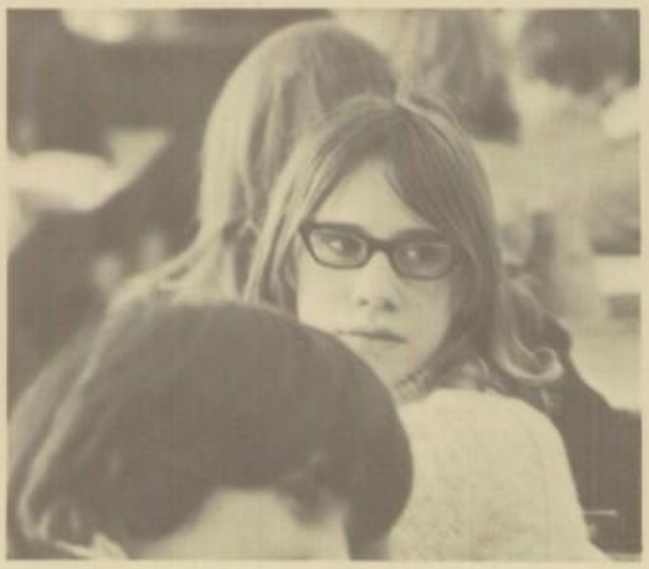


24

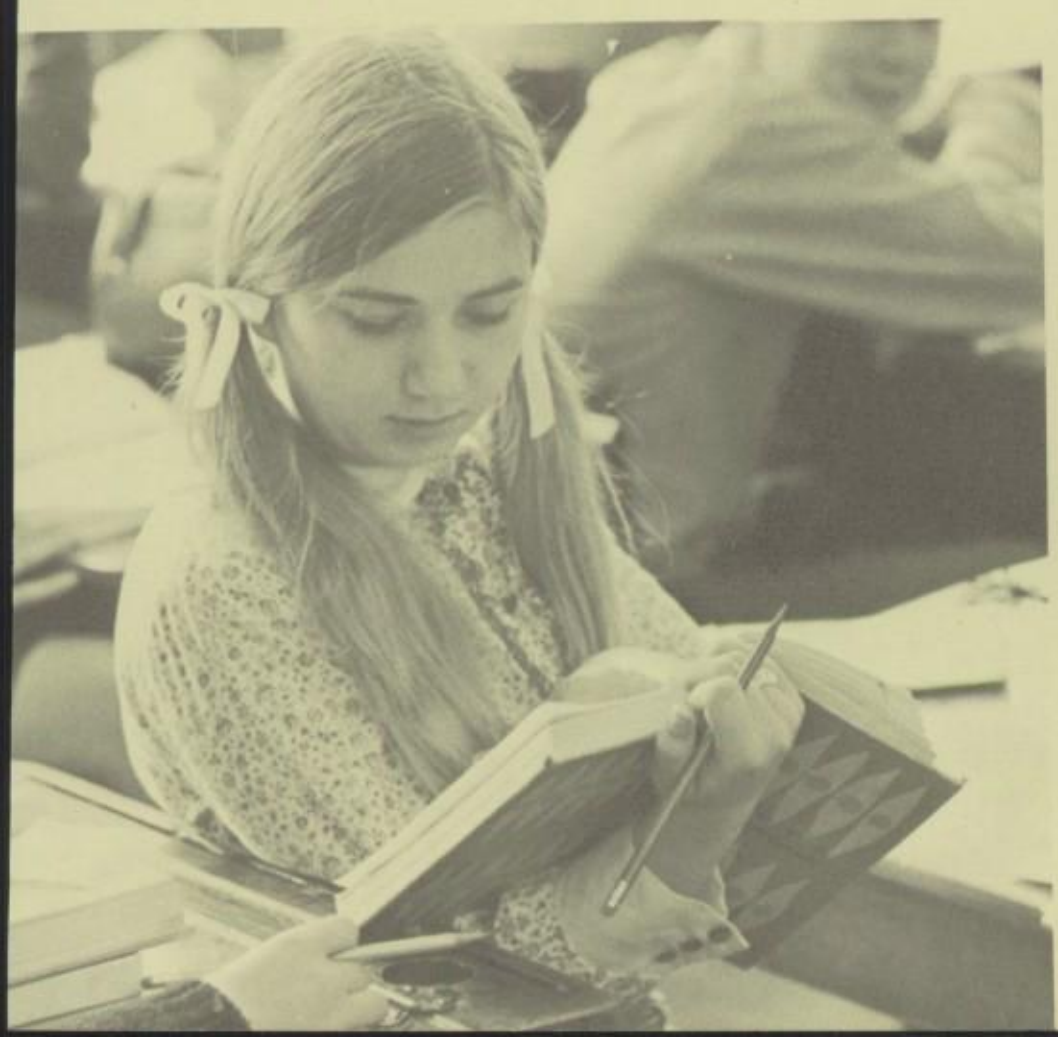


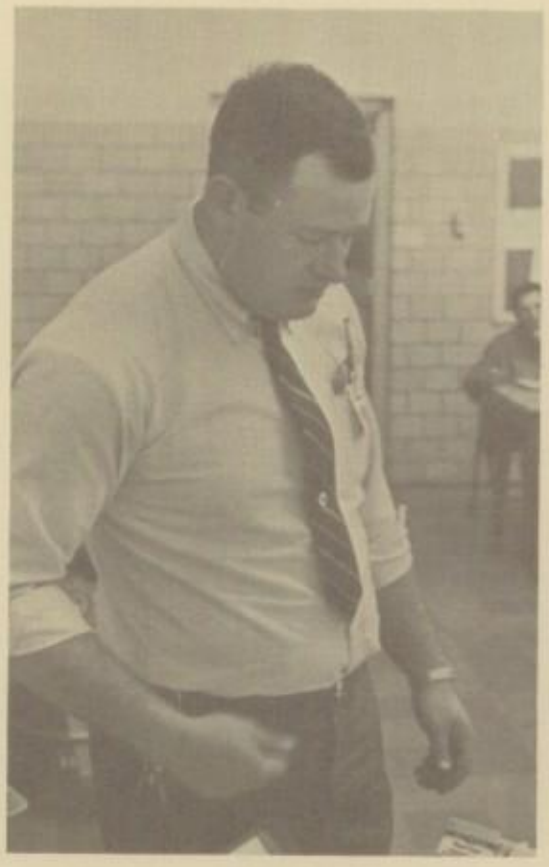


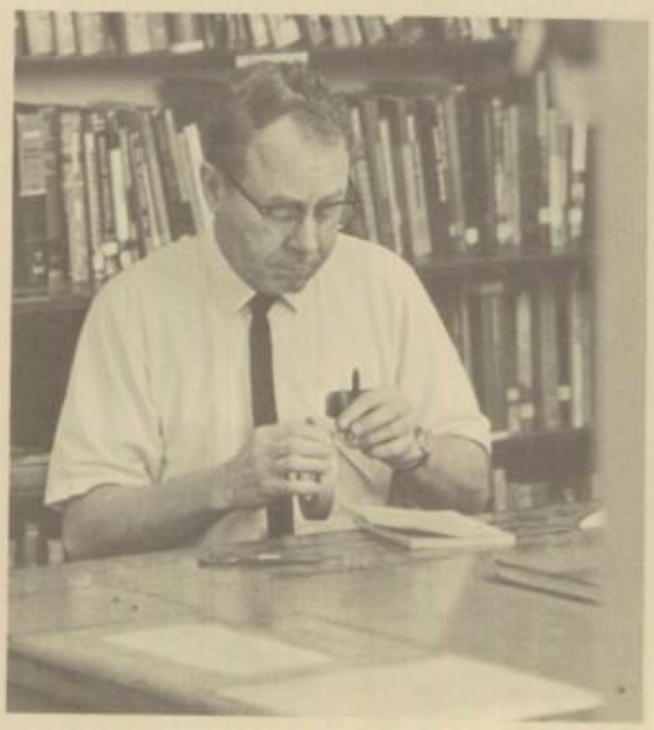




jack is
involved in
many activities
both in
the school and
in his town







only
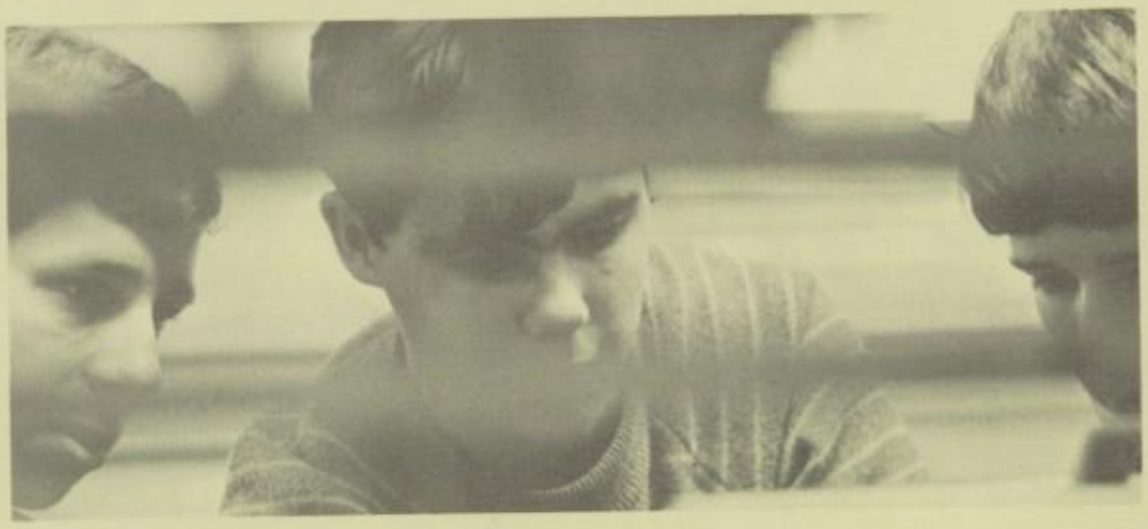
knows the
true value of friends



friendship is . . .

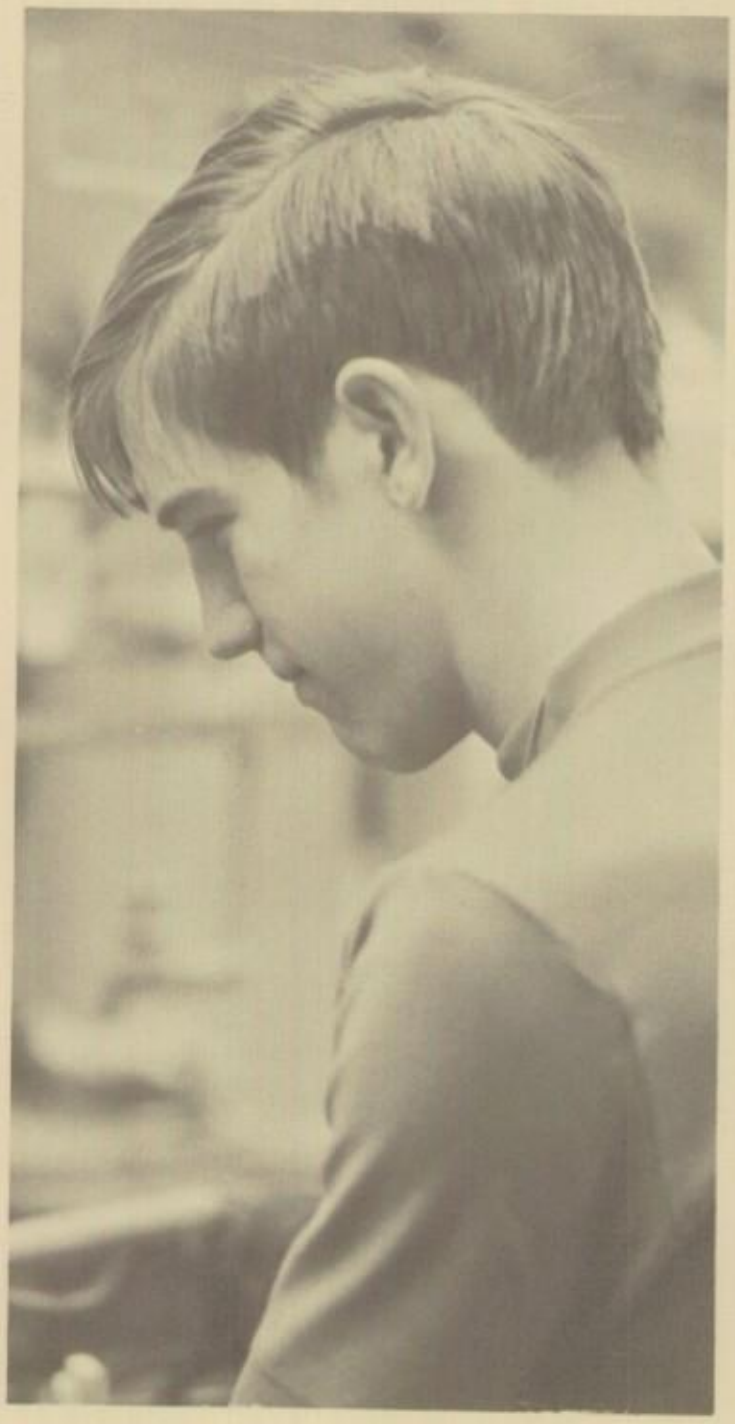
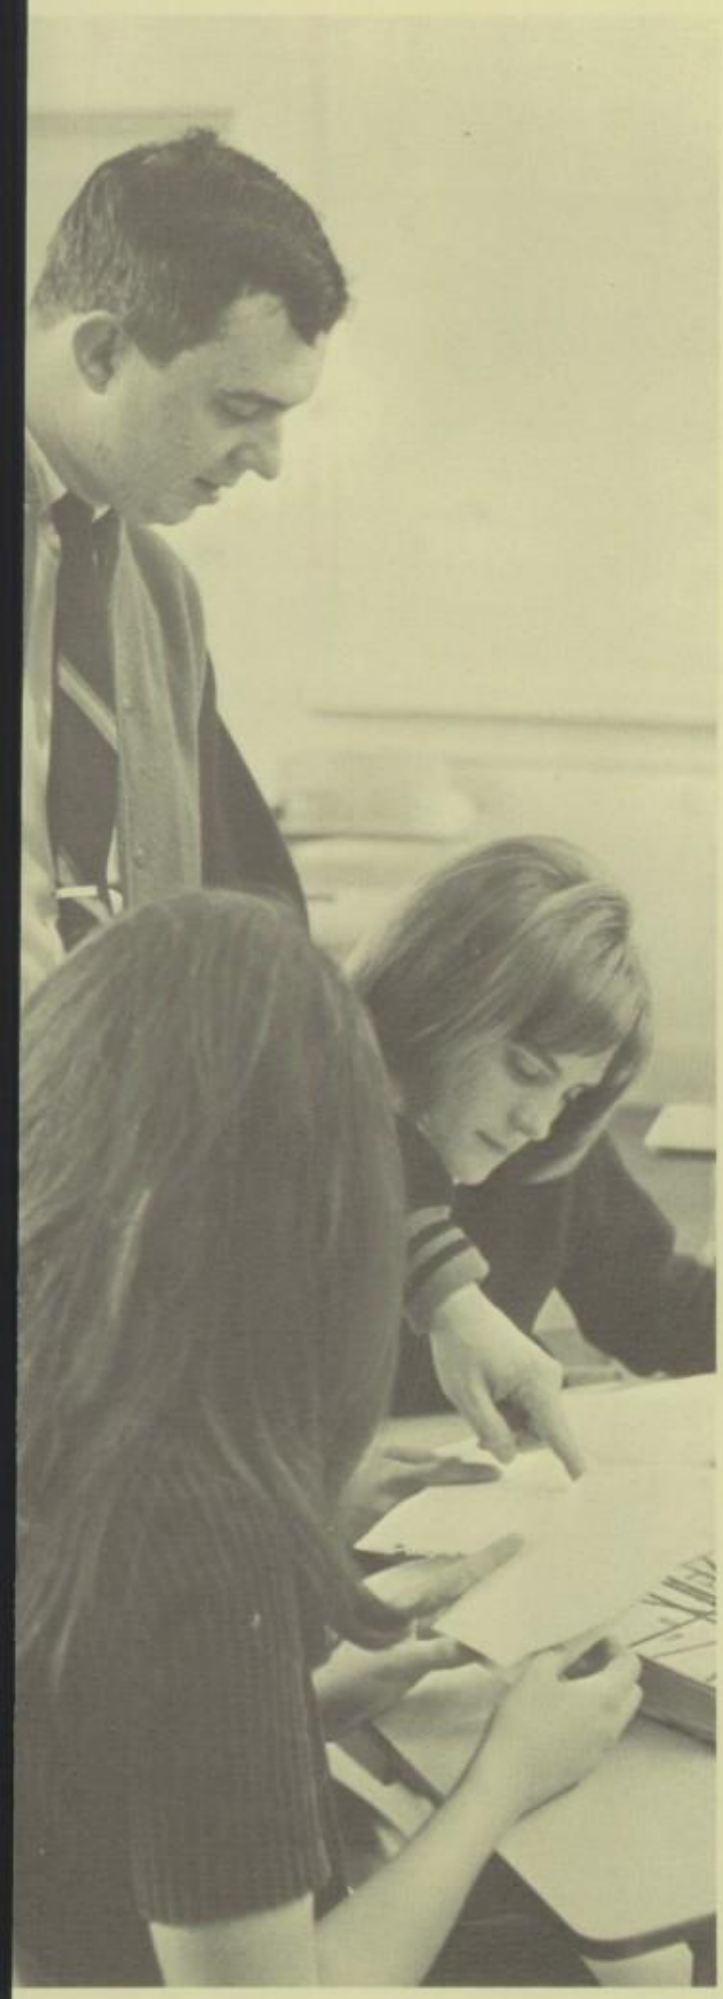
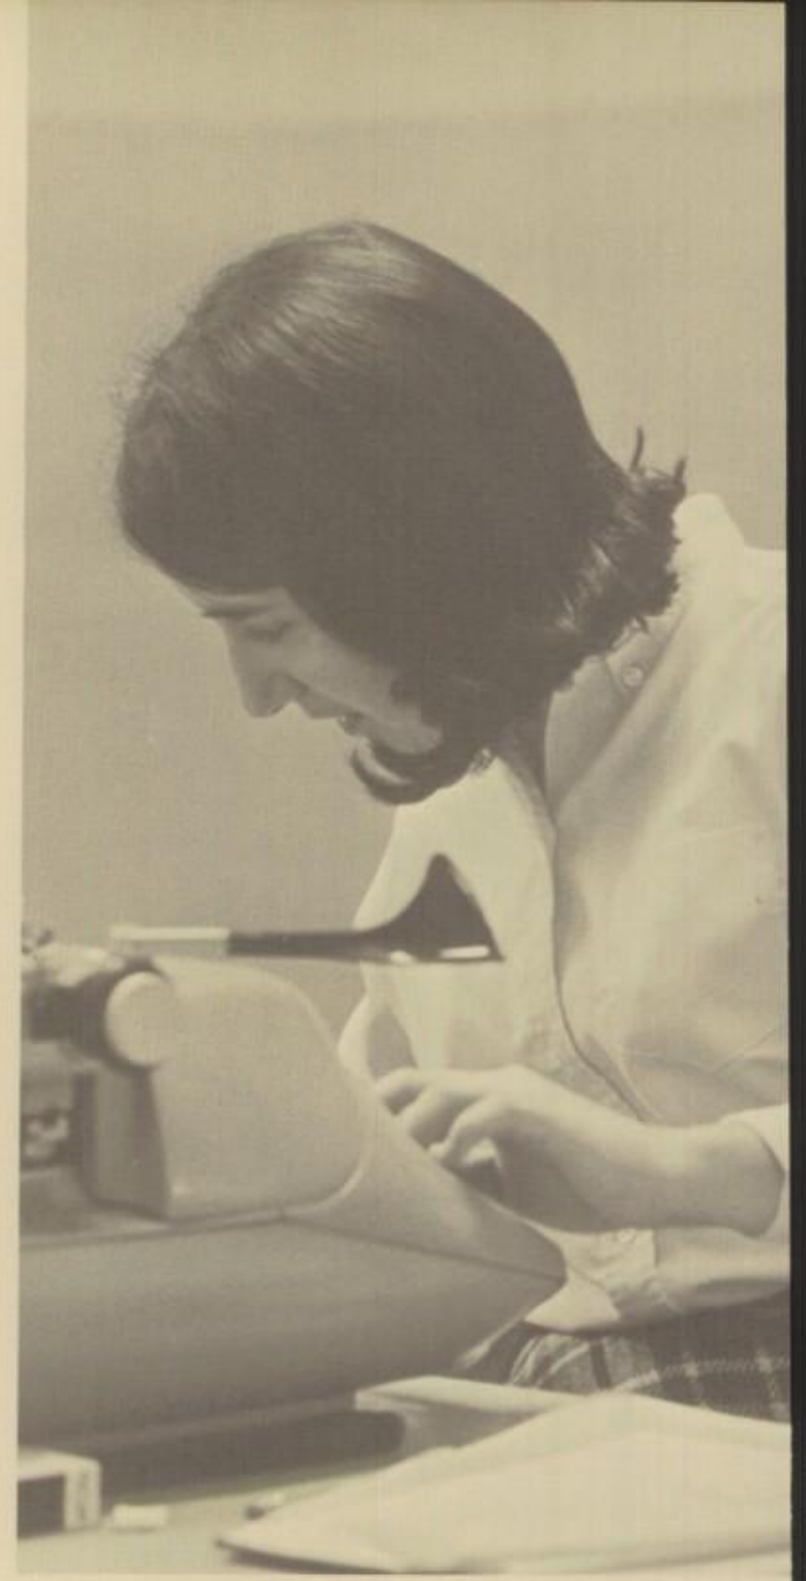
is jack
is jack





is jack
is jack

he was
philosophical
questioning events
around him,
wondering where he was
going,
asking who he was,
searching for
identity



through involvement,
association and interaction
jack has become more
aware of his role,
but
his learning
has just begun . . .

SO LOOK AROUND

IN APPRECIATION

for the guidance and encouragement you instilled in us; we, the Class of 1969, dedicate our annual to you —Mrs. Cooper. We thank you for instilling confidence in us when morale was at a low tide, for contributing your time and effort to make our projects both profitable and enjoyable. In the years after our graduation, we wish the best of everything to one so deserving. Thank you Mrs. Cooper.
